PREVIEW: OPEN MEN

1.30PM: TECHNIQUE V COMBINE

On current form, if the mens grand final was played this week, these two teams would certainly deserve to be playing off in it. Technique have led the league all season, while Combine have had their best season for many moons and would be Technique's main threat at this point in time. Further still, reports from both camps are that both teams are virtually at full strength which should guarantee a great game today. I think both backlines will be exploited today. Both combatants have strong forwardlines and suspect backlines when pressure is applied. This match will be a real ripnorter!

The verdict: Somehow I don't think today's game will be very close on the scoreboard. It will be a high quality match, but one of these two teams will get the jump over the other and should maintain a two goal break for most of the game. Technique to win in a close one, 4-3.

3.15PM: DEAKIN UNI V VETERANS

Deakin are coming off a good win over Mariners, while the Vets were humbled by Technique last Saturday. Recently, Deakin defeated Mariners 8-3 whereas the Veterans beat Mariners 2-1 the week before. Any significance? Well if the Veterans field the kind of team they did last Saturday, Deakin can feel confident of recording their first ever victory over the voodoo Veterans. Have the Veterans got any more players to bring back to boost their finals campaign?

The verdict: Deakin to win 4-2.

ROUND THIRTEEN

SATURDAY, AUG 7, 1993

EDITORIAL

Warrnambool hockey is beginning to heat up as the finals come charging towards us. After twelve rounds the contenders are starting to make themselves known, and the pretenders are starting to fall by the wayside. Last Saturday saw Combine and Deakin stage their much awaited Round One catch up match, with Combine taking the honours yet again. However, the ladders are now more authentic now that the catch up matches have been completed.

Congratulations to Warrnambool Secondary College who won at Ararat on Thursday to move through to the Western Zone finals in Melbourne next week. The senior boys won 2-1 over Ararat, the junior boys went down 1-2 to Ararat, and the senior girls won both of their matches. This coming week WSC will play the Western Zone metropolitan champion to decide who will represent the West in the All High Finals. Good luck WSC!

PREVIEW: OPEN WOMEN

1.30PM: DEAKIN UNI V SUBMARINERS

What can I say? Submariners have been in ominous form this season, and Deakin haven't. That doesn't sound promising for Deakin. However, grand final aspirants Technique pushed Submariners last Saturday, with Subbies getting up 3-2. Deakin had a good win over Mariners 3-0, only to go down 0-1 to Combine that Sunday. If Deakin has a full team, they will push Submariners. For how long nobody knows, but at some stage in the 70 minutes, Submariners will get on top, and win well.

The verdict: You just can't tip against Submariners in an encounter like this. If Deakin get up, look out grand final, but I think it's safe to say that Submariners will win 5-1.

3.15PM: COMBINE V TECHNIQUE

This will be the match of the day. Combine, like their male counterparts, have been nothing short of impressive this season, while Technique's fortunes seem to rest on whether a Miss K. O'Flaherty plays for them or not. If she does, I'd say Technique will have a forward edge over Combine's backline. If she doesn't, Combine should have the endeavour to see them to another win.

The verdict: Technique with K.O'F will win 3-1, without K.O'F will lose 2-1.

1.30pm Technique 6 d Veterans 1

Technique were in good form again, but weren't really pressed because Veterans were severely undermanned. At the moment, Veterans are their own worst enemy, lack of players.

3.15pm Deakin Uni 8 d Mariners 3

An extremely encouraging win for Deakin in these times of a player drought. This match saw some Deakin players decide to turn up, and consequently, they won well. Not so Sunday.

1.30pm Sunday Combine 11 d Deakin 1

Up one day, down the next. Where did all the deakin players go? Combine though, looked ominous. Good game to Reece Zaunbrecher.

1.30pm Deakin Uni 3 d Mariners 0

Valuable win for Deakin, especially, as the card highlighted in our last edition, considering a loss then would have close the finals door for Deakin.

3.15pm Submariners 3 d Technique 2

Didn't see this game, but Technique are a real threat to Submariners crown, and this scoreline highlights this.

3.15pm Sunday Combine 1 d Deakin 0

Close match, but Deakin's short corners too predictable.

HOCKEY HEADLINES

At the last WDHA Committee meeting it was agreed that a synthetic surface would be of paramount importance to the well being of the Association's members and the future of Warrnambool hockey and that a sub-committee must be set up soon to investigate the feasibility of the project and to lay its groundwork. If you believe your services would be helpful on this sub-committee, make yourself known!

What's your decision?Is this offside?

1. The right winger has a shot at goal from just inside the circle. All the other players of the attacking team were behind the ball when it was hit. The ball hit the post and on the rebound was collected by an attacker who had only the goalkeeper between him and the goalline when the ball hit the post.

Is this obstruction?

2. The ball is played into the circle by an attacker, the goalkeeper, in trying to play the ball, misses it and goes to ground over the ball. Before any attacker can get within playing distance, the goalkeeper hits the ball away with his stick.

Penalty corner shots at goal.

3. The ball is not struck immediately but passed around the circle. The defenders in the goal mouth remain there. An attacker undercuts the ball towards the net at waist height.

Answers: 1. The goal is allowed because forward was behind ball when ball hit post; 2. Play on because the player was not in playing distance; 3. goal disallowed because first hit at goal must be below 18 inches in height, unless you're Deakin's Greg Carne who did just that last Saturday and was given the goal!
