PREVIEW: OPEN MEN

1.30PM: DEAKIN UNI. V COMBINE

Unfortunately, this match looks like carrying on from where the last encounter left off. Last time, Combine triumphed 10-2 over, yet again, an undermanned Deakin team. Today, Deakin will be missing key players Gareth Camm, Anthony 'the Guru' Goldsmith, Paul Dillon, Glenn Rodrigues and Joe Denman, although the last two have been missing for some time now. Deakin will surely struggle against a Combine that has been starved of victory for many years now.

The verdict: I hate to say it, but Combine will over run a spirited Deakin 7-2.

3.15PM: VETERANS V MARINERS

The Veterans today should knotch up only their third win for the season, dealing yet another blow to the youthful Mariners. The Mariners were highly competitive earlier this season, but appear to have lost that energy that benefitted their style of game. The Veterans have had a disappointing season, due to losing a handful of premiership players. However, today the Veterans should get up, although they drew with Mariners last time they met, when Veterans were expected to win. Who knows?

The verdict: The Veterans to win 3-1.

ROUND ELEVEN

SATURDAY, JULY 24, 1993

EDITORIAL

Welcome to round eleven. This week we see a potential grand final preview in the women's competition when reigning premier Submariners take on Mariners. In the men's, reigning premier Veterans take on the barnstorming Combine.

Nadine Richards of the VHA is conducting a coaching clinic and an umpiring clinic this week. Please attend, because the WDHA puts these seminars on for you and the betterment of the sport, and there's nothing worse than poor attendences and then people complaining later in the season that we've got poor umpires, and poor training attendences. Do something about it. See overleaf for details of Nadine's visit.

1. Deakin University hockey club are holding their Christmas Party on Wednesday, 28 July at the Grand Hotel. As a member of Deakin, I urge everybody to attend this function. It ought to be a ripsnorter of a night. $10 entry gets you a quality three course meal, drinks are at bar prices and Santa will be present. There are only 100 tickets for sale, and there should be a good showing of hockey players there. There are not many hockey social events around, so here's one for you to sink your teeth into. Ticket sales must close this Monday night.

PREVIEW: OPEN WOMEN

1.30PM: SUBMARINERS V MARINERS

Grand final preview? On present form the Submariners should account for the Mariners who are coming off a loss to combine. I am assured by a female hockey guru that Mariners have the forwardline to win the flag this season. But will they have a full team today to realise this dream? Submariners record this season is near impecible, and they should account for Mariners today.

The verdict: Submariners forwardline should lead them to victory today over the Mariners 4-2.

3.15PM: DEAKIN UNI. V COMBINE

The last time these two teams met, they fought out a draw. Today should be just as close. One factor in today's result will be that Deakin will be without the services of midfielder Cathy 'Diesel' Grimwade who consistently roams the field for the Phantoms week in, week out. This loss will hurt Deakin, but they may just have the ability through Monica van der Wilke and Kellie McFarlane up forward to win today. I am assured by opposition teas that Combine are no longer the easybeats of the competition, due to them picking up some handy players.

The verdict: I'd say that Combine may just have the edge and win 2-1.

Combine 4 d Technique 1

1.30pm Technique 11 d Deakin Uni. 0

An impressive Technique took apart a grossly undermanned Deakin team. Deakin has been let down too many times by unreliable players, as was the case in this match. Technique's forward line combined well, and their backline had minimal work. Deakin tried hard as usual with what they had.

3.15pm Combine 8 d Mariners 0

Combine have been playing extremely well lately, and were not threatened by a Mariner line-up that was missing key players that they cannot afford to miss.

1.30pm Combine 2 d Mariners 1

The story is getting all too predictable. Mariners joined the many teams who have played short of players this season. Fielding about seven players, Mariners were over run by a Combine that wouldn't let such a situation slip away.

3.15pm Technique 2 d Deakin Uni. 1

Same as last time they met. Deakin led 1-0, but Technique lifted in the second half with two goals from Jenny Hughson. Deakin showed good teamwork in midfield yet again. No scoring ability.

CLINICS

Nadine Richards of the VHA will be here this week to conduct a coaching clinic this Monday night, the 26th of July. This Level 'O' clinic costs $10 to attend which includes a coaching manual and supper, as well as valuable coaching advice. The WDHA needs attendance numbers in advance, so if you are interested, see Barb Maher or John Shortal today.

Nadine will then conduct an umpiring clinic on Tuesday night, also at the WDHA Pavillion. Please attend. It is a free seminar, and will go a long way to improving our standard of umpiring, especially if you are one of the first to criticise umpires, and yet do not umpire yourself. Supper provided.

Nadine also requires the help of local hockey players on Monday and Tuesday at local schools. See Barb or John for details.

Deakin HC Xmas party at Grand Hotel this Wed night. All Welcome. $10 3 course meal. Heaps of hockey players already going! Be there. Sales close Mon nite latest.

What's your decision?

(Where applicable, presume ball has been stopped dead).

Is this offside?

1. Can an attacker be off-side when in line with the second defender?

Obstruction?

2. The ball is travelling towards the goal line being chased by a forward. The forward is 5 metres from the ball and, just before the ball crosses the goal line, a defender runs across between the attacker and the ball.

Penalty corner shots at goal.

3. The ball is flicked straight at a defender on the goal line at waist height at such a speed that the defender has time to stop it with her stick, but misses it and the ball hits the defender on the body.

Answers: 1. Yes, attacker is offside; 2. No, because attacker not in control of, or in a position to control the ball; 3. Penalty stroke because the defender had time to take evasive action.
